Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Claims 1-10, drawn to a composition comprising a compound of formula I and an emulsifier, classified in class 514, subclasses 75,183,506,579,706, 715,739,740,744,762.

II. Claims 11- 34, drawn to a method of treating a plant with a compound of formula I, classified in class 504, subclasses 209,307,313,326,349,351, 355,356,357.

III. Claims 35,36,43-54, drawn to a grown plant treated with by the method of claim 11, classified in class 504, subclasses 209,307,313,326,349,351, 353,355,356,357.

IV. Claims 37-42, drawn to a method of treating a plant with a compound of formula II, classified in class 504, subclass 353.

V. Claims 55-66, drawn to a method of producing a chemical-compound treated plant of claim 43 comprising contacting the plant with a compound of formula I, classified in class 504, subclasses 209,307,313,326,349,351, 353,355,356,357.

VI. Claims 67-73, drawn to a polyprenol treated plant, classified in class 504, subclass 353.

VII. Claims 74-79, drawn to a plant regulator comprising a compound of formula II, classified in class 504, subclass 113.

VIII. Claims 80-84, drawn to a method of growing a plant using a plant growth regulator of claim 74, classified in class 504, subclass 113.

IX. Claims 85-93, drawn to a method of obtaining a polyprenol, classified in class 514, subclass 739.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I,VII and II-VI,VIII,IX are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case chemical product other than product claimed can be used to control the growth of plants. Note that groups II-VI,VIII,IX are various ways to obtain a plant treated with a compound of formula I or formula II. The ways differ which allows for the groups to be distinct.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: invention comprising the various compounds (halo, alcohol, ester, etc.) of formulae I and II claimed. The species are independent or distinct because the various types of compounds differ in classification.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, an invention comprising a compound of formula I or formula II and an emulsifier is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species (Elect a single specifically defined compound of formula I or formula II plus a single specifically named or completely defined emulsifier if elected group requires an emulsifier. If Applicant desires additional components, Examiner is requesting that Applicant specifically name or completely define each additional ingredient. If no additional ingredient is specifically named or completely defined, claims containing those additional components will be classified as being non-elected.) that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

A telephone call was made to Attorney Kim on 1/8/07 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
